Next Generation in Benefit Management Technology

The New Standard of Agile, Rapidly Deployable, Cost-saving Benefit Management Technology is Here

Quantum Choice combines a user-configurable rules-based processing engine, .NET platform and distributed architecture to deliver a powerful new benefits management solution. Its state-of-the-art technology optimizes your current business processes and allows for seamless integration with web-based tools; flexible design and user-configurable rules make it easy to add new products.

Scalable to Grow with Your Business

Distributed architecture partitions systems and software to enable a flexible building block approach to system design and growth. This approach allows business to inexpensively increase performance and scale-out by simply adding additional application servers as needed.

Internal AP/AR Accounting System

On-board accounting system allows for user-defined account numbers segments, creation and maintenance of GL accounts and bank reconciliation. Export to an external GL is supported, but not required. Support EFT and ACH is included.

Enterprise Administration

Allows for security-protected management of global settings, including code and code group management, patient notes result codes, and more.

Multilevel, Role-based Security

User-defined database roles control access to forms and processes, providing an effective means for enforcing and automating system security. Security extends to record and data levels, giving complete confidence to groups administering their own employees' plans.

Workflow Automation

Streamlines operations using automatically triggered correspondence and automatic routing of claims processing to the appropriate workgroup. Enhances customer service, claim analysis and adjudication, automated billing, payment, and reporting.

Agile Workflow Automation Boosts Efficiency, Cuts Costs

Configurable workflow automation significantly increases productivity of claims analysis and processing, improves auto-adjudication speed and rates, enhances customer service, billing and payment.
